

Fourth Grade Reading Class

This reading class was created in 1996 by my daughter who chose her own books and read them with delight.

This is not a product.

We are just sharing our own notes to inspire you in your own lesson planning.

Katie Beth picked out her own books from our massive homeschool library. We have reading lists available on the Joyful and Successful Homeschooling website. You can download them for free. We love to read books in our home school.

We hope this will be a blessing and inspire you to create your own classes and unit studies.

Warmly,
Meredith Curtis & Laura Nolette

Katie Beth Fourth Grade Reading List 1996

Yes, I know this is a list. You expected something different, didn't you? For fourth grade, and several other years too, I just let my kids pick out whatever they wanted to read from the shelves of our homeschool library, a massive collection of books.

These are the books Katie Beth read in fourth grade. She read 125 books.

No book reports. Just more time to read classic, well-written books.

Notice that she read easy books like Nancy Drew and The Boxcar Children series, but she also read Mark Twain, C.S. Lewis, Paul White, and Martha Finley. She chose to read many Elsie books and all of the Anne of Green Gables series. Best of all, she chose her books, teaching her that reading is fun, not just educational.
